5

What an Achievement!

Earning a high school diploma is viewed by employers as a milestone achievement. The GED test isn't easy and can be more difficult to pass the longer the student is out of school.

4

That diploma can forecast the student's future

Students are more likely to get a job with health insurance and retirement.

Students are more likely to survive layoffs and downsizing.

Students are more likely to avoid homelessness, poor health, and prison.

3

Students will make more than minimum wage with a high school diploma

High school graduates make $143 more per week than

High school diploma gives students more choices

- Vocational certificates
- Tech training for in-demand jobs
- Associate degree
- Bachelor's degree
- Military Service
- Better jobs, career promotions
- Successful relationships
- Community respect

It's never too early to start the conversation about preparing for life after high school

In order to help our children and youth achieve optimal success in adulthood, caseworkers must begin discussing college and career readiness, including post-secondary plans, options for testing supports and preparation, and further education and training, during their monthly face-to-face meetings, Transition Planning, during Permanency Planning and Case Planning Meetings.

There are many opportunities for children and youth in conservatorship to access resources and support to prepare them for life after high school.

A few examples are:

- College tours
- Visit a college or training class
- Presentations on career choices - offered at schools, YMCA, Boys and Girls Club
- Job shadowing
- Attending professional meetings
- Career exploration and aptitude assessments

Conversation Starters

"What kind of skills do you think you need to be a (fireman, teacher, truck driver, chef, veterinarian)"

"When I was 8, I wanted to be a (ballerina, forest ranger, nurse, cashier)-but then I became interested in (computers, how things worked, helping people)."

"What do you want to be when you grow up?"

"One of the best things I liked about college was that you could take really interesting classes - such as Exploring Egyptian Artifacts or Modern Dance." What kind of college class would you take?"

" You like (baseball, chess, cheer team?) What job would use those same skills? "

Frequently Asked Questions

Regarding Foster Care Liaisons

School District, College Champions, Education Service Centers

1. What are the responsibilities of the School District Foster Care Liaison?

The law states that each school district and open enrollment charter school shall appoint at least one employee to act as a liaison to facilitate the enrollment in or transfer to a public school of a child in the district who is in the conservatorship of the state.

2. What are some of the Key Activities of the School District Foster Care Liaison?

- Streamline enrollment processes for students in foster care
- Implement student data tracking and monitoring mechanisms
- Ensure that students in foster care receive school nutrition and meal programs without further application
- Help coordinate withdrawal, records transfer, and facilitate credit recovery
- Become a foster care expert and promote practices that align with federal and state law
- Coordinate with child welfare partners
- Provide foster care-related information and training to the district
- Work with DFPS to help students maintain their school placement, when appropriate
- Review student schedules to ensure they are on track to graduate
- Encourage successful transition into adulthood and post-secondary opportunities
- Encourage student involvement in extracurricular activities
- Know which supports are available within the district and community for students in care

3. What types of trainings and resources can foster care liaisons provide to their district and local campuses?

- The Child Welfare System, DFPS staff, and DFPS Education Specialists
- Confidentiality/Sensitivity
- Enrollment/Withdrawal
- Foster Care Education Laws
- Mandatory Child Abuse Reporting
- The Impact of Trauma on Learning
- Transition Supports and Post-Secondary Opportunities

4. Are School District Foster Care Liaisons registered with TEA?

Yes! To see the list of district liaisons who are registered with TEA, visit: <http://tea.texas.gov/FosterCareStudentSuccess/liaisons/>

5. Where else can stakeholders and students find support for students in foster care?

Each of the 20 Education Service Centers (ESC) in Texas has a foster care liaison to provide support to area school district staff. Texas public colleges and universities have designated a College Champion to assist students who were formerly in foster care.

Quick Summary

Every Texas public school district and open-enrollment school must appoint a Foster Care Liaison to facilitate enrollment and services for children and youth in foster care.

TEA and Education Service Centers provide additional training for School District Foster Care Liaisons.
