- ☐ For youth 17 years or older taking medication, whether the youth's transition plan includes a program supervised by a healthcare professional to assist the youth with independently managing their medication. Tex. Fam. Code § 264.121\(g\)\(2\)

Indian Child Welfare Act (ICWA) Checklist

When Does ICWA Apply?

- ☐ In a “child custody proceeding” defined as any action, other than an emergency proceeding, that may result in a foster care placement, termination of parental rights, pre-adoptive placement or adoptive placement as defined in 25 U.S.C. § 1903\(1\); 25 C.F.R. §23.2; Tex. Fam. Code §152.102.
- ☐ Involving an “Indian child” defined as
 - Unmarried, under the age of 18, and a member of an Indian Tribe; or
 - Unmarried, under the age of 18, eligible for membership in an Indian Tribe, and is the biological child of a member of a federally recognized Indian Tribe. 25 U.S.C. § 1903\(4\); 25 C.F.R. §23.2.

Note: Each Tribe determines eligibility criteria for membership or enrollment (not the court). If ICWA applies, please also refer to the NCJFCJ ICWA Checklists.

Notice Requirements 25 U.S.C. § 1912\(a\); 25 C.F.R. §23.11

- ☐ The child’s parent, Indian custodian, and Tribe must be notified by registered mail or certified mail, return receipt requested, with copies to the appropriate Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) Regional Directors. Upon request of a party, the BIA will make a reasonable attempt to identify and locate the Tribe, parents, or Indian custodian.
- ☐ Finding on the record that timely notice was or was not provided as required.

Best Practice: If there is reason to believe that the child might be an Indian child, NOTIFY all of the above and make a finding on the record.

Foster Care or Pre-adoptive Placement Preferences 25 U.S.C. § 1915\(a\)-\(b\); 25 C.F.R. § 23.129 - 23.132

- ☐ Child must be placed in the least restrictive setting that most approximates a family, taking into consideration sibling attachment; allows the Indian child’s special needs (if any) to be met; and is in reasonable proximity to the Indian child’s home, extended family, or siblings.
- ☐ Where the Tribe has not established a different order, preference for placement must be given in descending order to (1) extended family; (2) a foster home approved by the Tribe; (3) an Indian foster home licensed or approved by an authorized non-Indian licensing authority; or (4) an institution for children approved by an Indian Tribe or operated by an Indian organization which has a program suitable to meet the child’s needs.
- ☐ The court must, where appropriate, also consider the preference of the Indian child or the Indian child’s parent.
- ☐ If any party asserts that there is good cause not to follow the placement preferences, the reasons for that belief or assertion must be stated orally on the record or provided in writing to the parties and the court. The party seeking departure from the placement preferences should bear the burden of proving by clear and convincing evidence that there is “good cause” to depart from the placement preferences. A court’s determination of good cause to depart from the placement preferences must be made on the record or in writing and should be based on one or more of the following considerations:
 1. The request of one or both of the Indian child’s parents, if they attest that they have reviewed the placement options, if any, that comply with the order of preference;
 2. The request of the child, if the child is of sufficient age and capacity to understand the decision that is being made;
 3. The presence of a sibling attachment that can be maintained only through a particular placement; or
 4. The extraordinary physical, mental, or emotional needs of the Indian child, such as specialized treatment services that may be unavailable in the community where families who meet the placement preferences live.

Indian Child Welfare Act (ICWA) Checklist

Special Evidentiary Rules

☐ Threshold for Removal of the Child 25 U.S.C. § 1912\(e\)

- Clear and convincing evidence that custody of the child by the parent or Indian custodian is likely to result in serious emotional or physical damage to the child. The evidence must show a causal relationship between the particular conditions in the home and the likelihood that continued custody of the child will result in serious emotional or physical damage. 25 C.F.R. §23.121.
- Must include testimony of a “qualified expert witness” who is qualified to testify about whether the child’s continued custody by the parent or Indian custodian is likely to result in serious emotional or physical damage to the child and should be qualified to testify as to the prevailing social and cultural standards of the Indian child’s Tribe. 25 U.S.C. § 1912\(e\); 25 C.F.R. §23.122.
- Finding of “Active Efforts” to prevent to prevent the breakup of the Indian family and that those efforts have been unsuccessful. 25 U.S.C. § 1912\(d\); 25 C.F.R. §23.120.

☐ Threshold for Termination of Parental Rights

- Evidence beyond a reasonable doubt that custody of the child by the parent or Indian custodian is likely to result in serious emotional or physical damage to the child and a causal relationship between the particular conditions in the home and the likelihood of serious emotional or physical damage to the child as a result. 25 U.S.C. § 1912\(f\); 25 C.F.R. §23.121 \(b-c\).
- Supported by testimony of a “qualified expert witness.” 25 U.S.C. § 1912\(f\); 25 C.F.R. §23.122 \(b\).
- Without a causal relationship identified, evidence that shows only the existence of community or family poverty, isolation, single parenthood, custodian age, crowded or inadequate housing, substance abuse, or nonconforming social behavior does not by itself constitute clear and convincing evidence or evidence beyond a reasonable doubt that continued custody is likely to result in serious emotional or physical damage to the child. 25 C.F.R. §23.121 \(d\).
- Finding that “Active Efforts” have been made to prevent the breakup of the Indian family and that those efforts have been unsuccessful. 25 U.S.C. § 1912\(d\); 25 C.F.R. §23.120.

Best Practices for Active Efforts include: (i) early contact and active engagement with the child’s Tribe; (ii) higher level of engagement and support for parents providing services that are specific to the needs of the family; and (iii) commitment to the spirit of ICWA. Remember that active efforts must be documented in detail in the record.

ENGAGING YOUNG CHILDREN (AGES 0-12 MO) IN THE COURTROOM

JUDICIAL BENCH CARD¹

Document court actions

Document in the court order:

- Whether the infant is present at the hearing.
- OR if not present, address the reasons why the infant is not in attendance.
 - Ask why the infant is not present and what efforts were made for the infant's attendance.
 - Explore and encourage resolution of transportation issues as a reason for nonattendance.
 - Depending on the situation, consider postponing the hearing until the infant can be present.
 - Request a current picture that will be introduced into the record.²

Observe the infant's behavior and appearance

- How does the child interact and respond to caregivers, parents, and guardians?
- Assess whether the child appears healthy and well kept.
- Does the child exhibit appropriate developmental milestones?³

Preparations for court attendance

- Ensure that your courtroom is child friendly.⁴
- Ensure all children are accompanied by a familiar caregiver.

Possible questions to ask the caregiver about the infant

- Is the infant forming healthy attachments?⁵ With whom?
- Is the infant meeting developmental milestones?⁶

AGE	MILESTONES*
2 months	Lifts head up 45 degrees Laughs Smiles spontaneously
4 months	Rolls over Follows to 180 degrees Turns to rattling sound
6 months	Sits with no support Turns to voice Feeds self

³ Please refer to the Milestone Chart. For more information about child development, see Genie Miller Gillespie and Diane Boyd Rauber (eds.), A Judge's Guide: Making Child-Centered Decisions In Custody Cases (ABA Child Custody and Adoption Pro Bono Project and ABA Center on Children and the Law 2d ed. 2008).

⁴ It may be necessary to address issues related to the infant's safety at the courthouse and the appropriateness of courtroom waiting areas. Judges may find it beneficial to have age-appropriate toys and books available.

⁵ For more information about attachment, see JoAnne Solchany and Lisa Pilnik, Healthy Attachment for Very Young Children in Foster Care, Child Law Practice, Vol. 27, No. 6 (August 2008).

- How does the child interact and respond to caregivers, parents, and guardians?
- Observe the child's demeanor when answering the questions (if verbal).⁴
 - Who does the child look to for help in answering questions?

AGE	MILESTONES*

- Assess whether the child appears healthy and well kept.
- Does the child exhibit appropriate developmental milestones?⁵

¹ This bench card was created to assist judges when a child is present in the courtroom. It does not include what information the judge should require from additional parties, such as a report from the child's therapist about the child's mental health status.

⁴ Changes in a child's demeanor while answering questions may have several meanings. For example, a child could look to an adult for the answer because he is attached to that adult and wants to please him or her. On the other hand, the same action can mean that the child is afraid of the adult. For more information about questioning children, see Anne Graffam Walker, Handbook on Questioning Children: A Linguistic Perspective (ABA Center on Children and the Law 2d ed. 1999).

⁵ Please refer to the Milestone Chart. For more information about child development, see Genie Miller Gillespie and Diane Boyd Rauber (eds.), A Judge's Guide: Making Child-Centered Decisions in Custody Cases (ABA Child Custody and Adoption Pro Bono Project and ABA Center on Children and the Law 2d ed. 2008).

Preparations for court attendance

- Ensure that your courtroom is child friendly.⁶
- Ensure all children are accompanied by a familiar caregiver, such as a foster parent.
- Consult with the child's caregiver when scheduling the next hearing so it does not interfere with the child's normal daily routine, e.g., naptime, mealtime, etc.

 - If helpful, offer to have a conversation in chambers, making sure it complies with all procedural rules.
 - Have the agency invite him to submit drawings, cards, or other age-appropriate materials periodically. Refer to anything previously submitted.
 - Acknowledge anything that the child gives to the court while the child is present.
 - Thank the child for coming to court.
 - Encourage the child to attend the next hearing.
 - Ask the child whether he has anything to say before the hearing ends.

Possible questions to ask the child (if child is verbal)

- Do you go to preschool or daycare? What things do you like to do while you are there?
- What kinds of things did you and your mommy (or daddy) do the last time you saw her (or him)?
- Do you feel sad or miss anyone? Suggest options (e.g., brothers, sisters, grandparents).
- Have you been to the doctor?
- Do you like the doctor?

Possible questions to ask the caregiver about the child

- Is the child forming healthy attachments?⁷ With whom?
- Is the child meeting developmental milestones?⁸

⁶ It may be necessary to address issues related to the child's safety at the courthouse and the appropriateness of courtroom waiting areas. Judges may find it beneficial to have age-appropriate toys and books available.

⁷ For more information about attachment, see JoAnne Solchany and Lisa Pilnik, Healthy Attachment for Very Young Children in Foster Care, Child Law Practice, Vol. 27, No. 6 (August 2008).

 - Explore and encourage resolution of common reasons for nonattendance, including interference with the school schedule and transportation issues.
 - Depending on the situation, consider postponing the hearing until the child can be present.
 - Request a current picture that will be introduced into the record.²

- Avoid legal jargon and acronyms.
- Encourage the child to ask questions, particularly if he doesn't understand a question or statement.

- Recognize cultural differences in language.
- Avoid abstract questions.⁴ Recognize that school-age children usually answer questions literally. For example: Q: Are you in school now? A: No. The child may be referring to where she is right now (the courtroom) instead of the broader question of whether she attends school.

- Publicly praise the child's accomplishments.

Observe the child's behavior and appearance

- Observe the child's interaction with caregivers, parents, and guardians.⁵
 - Does the child look to them for help, support, advice, etc.?
- Observe the child's physical appearance and health.
 - Is the child appropriately dressed?
 - Does the child look well-nourished?
 - Does the child have appropriate personal hygiene?
- Observe the child's body language.
 - Be mindful of signs that the child may be frustrated or overwhelmed.⁶

Preparations for court appearance

- Ensure that your courtroom is child friendly.⁷
- Ensure all children are accompanied by a support person at the hearing such as a foster parent, CASA, mentor, coach, or other adult role model.

³ See Andrea Khoury, With Me, Not Without Me: How to Involve Children in Court, Child Law Practice, Vol. 26, No. 9 (November 2007).

⁵ Please note that some school-age children act out behaviorally with those they trust because they feel safe enough to express their stress, fear, or frustration. The child may also be testing limits. In addition, changes in a child's demeanor while answering questions may have several meanings. For example, a child could look to an adult for the answer because he is attached to that adult and wants to please him or her. On the other hand, the same action can mean that the child is afraid of the adult.

⁶ Signs may include squirming, lying down, or fussing.

⁷ It may be necessary to address issues related to the child's safety at the courthouse and the appropriateness of courtroom waiting areas. Judges may find it beneficial to have age-appropriate toys and books available.

- Consult with the child and his caregiver when scheduling the next hearing so it does not interfere with the child's normal daily routine, including school.
- Keep a school district calendar on the bench to ensure there are no conflicts with state standardized tests.

- Do you miss anyone? Provide options, e.g., brothers, sisters, grandparents.
- Where do you go to school?
- What grade are you in?
- Who is your favorite teacher?
- Who takes you to school?
- Are you having any problems in school?
- Do you have a tutor?
- What do you like to do before and after school?

⁶ It may be necessary to address issues related to the youth's safety at the courthouse and the appropriateness of courtroom waiting areas. Judges may find it beneficial to have age-appropriate games and books available.

⁷ Performing the task should be presented to the youth as an option and solely for his benefit. Performing the task may help the youth to focus attention and dissipate anxiety.

⁸ Sharing documents increases awareness and gives the youth a sense of control.

- Keep a school district calendar on the bench to ensure there are no conflicts with state standardized tests.
- Thank the youth for coming to court. Reward even the smallest attempt at participation.⁹

- Are you having any problems in school?
- Do you have a tutor?
- What do you do on the weekends?

⁹ Rewarding all attempts at participation adds to the youth's sense of control and self-confidence.

ENGAGING OLDER ADOLESCENTS (AGES 16+) IN THE COURTROOM

JUDICIAL BENCH CARD¹

Document court actions

Document in the court order:

- If the youth is present, have him identify himself on the record.
- OR if the youth is not present, address the reasons why the youth is not in attendance.
 - What efforts were made and the accommodations offered to encourage the youth's attendance.
 - Explore and encourage resolution of common reasons for nonattendance, including interference with the school schedule and transportation issues.
 - In the absence of exceptional circumstances, postpone the hearing until the youth can be present.
 - Request a current picture that will be introduced into the record.²

Communicate with the youth during the court hearing

- Use age-appropriate language.³
- Talk with the youth about his interests, likes, and dislikes.
- If helpful, offer to have a conversation in chambers, making sure it complies with all procedural rules.
- Provide an age-appropriate list of legal terms to the youth before court to which he may refer during the hearing.⁴
- Avoid legal jargon and acronyms.
- Ask directed questions.⁵
- Encourage the youth to ask questions, particularly if he doesn't understand a question or statement.
- Recognize cultural differences in language.
- Publicly praise the youth's accomplishments.

Observe the youth's behavior and appearance

- Observe the youth's interaction with caregivers, parents, and guardians.
 - Does the youth look to them for help, support, advice, etc.?
- Observe the youth's physical appearance and health.
 - Is the youth appropriately dressed?
 - Does the youth look well-nourished?
 - Does the youth have appropriate personal hygiene?

Preparations for court attendance

- Ensure that your courtroom is teen friendly.⁶
- Ensure all children are accompanied by a support person at the hearing such as the foster parents, CASA, mentor, coach, or other adult role model.
- Have the agency invite the youth to submit report cards, letters, drawings, stories, poems, or other age-appropriate materials periodically. Refer to anything previously submitted.
- Read anything that the youth gives to the court while the youth is present.
- When appropriate, ask for the youth's input and opinions.
- Talk with the youth about permanency options.⁷
- Review the outcome of the hearing with the youth and answer any questions (or ensure that someone else will do so).
- Ensure the youth understands what was ordered and why.
- When appropriate, share court documents with the youth.⁸
- Ask the youth what he wants to accomplish before the next hearing.
- Consult with the youth and his caregiver when scheduling the next hearing so it does not interfere with the youth's normal daily routine, including school.
- Keep a school district calendar on the bench to ensure there are no conflicts with state standardized tests.

¹ This bench card was created to assist judges when a child is present in the courtroom. It does not include what information the judge should require from additional parties, such as a report from the child's therapist about the child's mental health status.

² The social worker or caregiver can provide the court with a picture.

³ Older adolescents can understand more complex concepts.

⁴ See Andrea Khoury, With Me, Not Without Me: How to Involve Children in Court, Child Law Practice, Vol. 26, No. 9 (November 2007).

⁵ Where do you want to live? What do you like about your home? Do you know why you live away from home? Do you see your mom and dad? What things do you like to do with them? Do you wish you could see them more?

⁶ It may be necessary to address issues related to the youth's safety at the courthouse and the appropriateness of courtroom waiting areas. Judges may find it beneficial to have age-appropriate games and books available.

⁷ Questions that address permanency may include: Who do you spend most of your time with? Over the holidays, who do you spend time with? Is there a relative that you are close to? Is there a close family friend that you like to spend time with? Do you know what adoption is? Do you want to be adopted?

⁸ Sharing court documents increases awareness and gives the youth a sense of control.

- Thank the youth for coming to court.
- Encourage the youth to attend the next hearing.
- Ask the youth whether he has any last questions, thoughts, or concerns.

Possible questions to ask the youth
